

STORES TO CLOSE EARLIER TONIGHT

Nearly All Large Establishments Cheerfully Give Clerks Shorter Hours.

This is the day that will mark the final chapter in the campaign for the early closing of stores, and it is the day upon which this new order of things relative to Saturday early closing will be inaugurated. The large dry goods stores, with a single exception, have signified their intention of closing tonight at 6 o'clock sharp.

The only exception is the Z. C. M. L. which will remain open till 8 or 8:30 o'clock. It is altogether probable that this store will fall in line after tonight. The big retail merchants have never been seriously opposed to early closing, but each one felt that as long as his competitors kept open it was incumbent upon him to do likewise. The great majority of the clothing and men's furnishings stores, commencing tonight, will close at 9 o'clock every Saturday. Many of these have heretofore closed at 11 o'clock. The shoe stores will also close at 9 o'clock, instead of 10:30, as formerly. It is possible that the shoe men may decide at an early date to close at 6 o'clock.

The early closing movement will not affect the grocery stores to any great extent, although one big grocery store will close at 10, instead of 11 o'clock.

Madsen, president and secretary; Elise Madsen, vice president; and Viggo Madsen, treasurer, these comprising the board of directors.

FRUIT NOT MUCH HURT.

Damage Quite Slight Says Horticultural Inspector.

The three big fruit districts of the state, Brigham City, Davis county, and Utah county, have been little affected by frost, and there has been no material damage, according to J. Edward Taylor, state horticultural inspector, who returned yesterday from an extended tour of the state. Data concerning frost damage is being compiled by Mr. Taylor, who expects to issue a bulletin some time today. He states that peach blossoms were not out in any of the districts, but that cherries were. Some small damage was done to apricots, and a trifle to cherries, but this has not been due entirely to the cold of the last week, being attributed rather to the severe winter. The cold of January and February damaged the buds, and this is showing to no little extent in the blossoms at this time.

THE CLOCK

Many, Oh! so many ladies say, "I haven't a clock in my house that will keep time," and nine times out of ten, after investigation has been made, it develops that the clocks were bought because of their artistic merit and not because of their quality, and all of them are out of order through neglect and misuse.

Don't expect to get a finely constructed clock that will always be accurate for the price of a whistle, and don't think that a $50 clock that consists of a $48 onyx or gold case and a $2.00 movement will keep as accurate time as a clock with a $48 movement and a $2.00 case, and don't expect a clock will feel any better bottom side up in a clothes basket on moving day than you would and don't expect it to recover as quickly.

We sell good clocks and no other sort and have the right one for the mantel, hall, bedroom, office, engine room, school, automobile, desk or kitchen at the prices that good clocks bring.
